

THE KIMBERLY

A PRESIDENTIAL STAY...

Not many hotels can boast a hand-written letter from a former President (39th US President, Jimmy Carter) but The Kimberly can. This was a sure sign of a great stay during a pleasant check-in at this charming hotel, in a prime location on 155 East 50th Street.

Cocktails and city views can be continued in all of The Kimberly's satisfying suites. I experienced the luxurious, newly remodelled one-bedroom suite with King Bed, antique-style furnishings, a separate living room, dining area, a jetted tub and a balcony. The highlight: feather beds draped in Fretté linens, covered in fluffy, down comforters and pillows. Ensuring a solid eight-hour uninterrupted sleep. Suite dreams, indeed.

Longer stay travellers will be pleased to know that all suites come equipped with a mini-refrigerator, coffee maker and marble/tiled bathroom. Offering practicality mixed with classic New York opulence.

Dining is a must! try out Empire Steak House which opened adjacent to the lobby in early 2016. A grand bi-level space with roomy banquettes and atmosphere to spare. Bistango is the on-property Italian restaurant and features an impressive cocktail menu and tasty made-to-order flatbreads. Or in my case, order a feast to your suite via in-room dining, tuck up in bed and watch a classic from the hotel's movie selection.

Independently owned and operated, the hotel offers a classic, traditional, luxury experience. I will be sure to visit my new friend "Kimberly" when I return to the big apple.
