

Welcome Back To All Nugget Team Members And Guests

I would like to welcome you all back to the Nugget! Your health and safety has been and will continue to be our highest priority. As we start down the path of our June 4th opening, we are doing so in the most unprecedented time in a generation. We have added many protocols surrounding COVID-19, and most recently with local and national demonstrations and protest, our health and safety commitments must continue to be at the highest level.

In regard to the most recent local and national public demonstrations and protests, Marnell Gaming and the Nugget stand firmly with all those who peacefully protest to inspire change and reform for social injustice. To be clear, we strongly oppose any and all forms of racism.

As we open up the Nugget, I'm asking our internal security team to respect lawful and peaceful protests should any occur near our property, and we will refrain from any unnecessary confrontations with visibly agitated protestors.

I am extremely excited to welcome back our opening team members and guests. I'm personally counting on all of our team members, their big smiles, warm hearts and soft human touch to keep our casino a great place to work. We all make a difference in each other's lives, communities, and our workplace and now more than ever, humility, kindness, and understanding are needed by all of us.

I'm proud to welcome you all back to a safe and fun Nugget and look forward to seeing you all.
